LOCAL NEWS.

Brief Mention.

A farm wanted—R. E. Baldwin.
 High water to-day at 8:07 a. m.
 Pease & Son have received The Century for August.

The family of Buel Goodsell of Meriden have gone to Short Beach for the season.

Saltwater cars leaving Green on the hour connect with Nesbit's wagonettes for Short Beach and Double Beach.

If you want a new wringer or one repaired, call on the manufacturers, the American Wringer company, 499 State street.

William C. Foote of this city is in Mystic for a short visit. Mr. Foote will soon leave for Canada for his health.

The New Haven Colony Historical society building will be closed during the month of August while painters are at work redecorating the walls and ceilings.

The moonlight excursion to-morrow (Friday) night on the Margaret to Pawson Park affords a grand opportunity to witness the illumination at Short Beach.

The train on the Shore Line due here at 9:05 last evening was one hour late. The delay was caused by the blowing out of the cylinder head of the engine near Poquonnock.

J. T. Simmons, who is chairman of the executive committee of the Thirtieth regiment of Connecticut, has decided to hold their annual reunion at the Forbes house, East Haven, August 22.

Frank E. Raymond of this city was arrested last night on a charge of being implicated in the Morris F. Tyler house burglary. The other two men arrested are Charles M. Brooks alias F. A. King, and Horace Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Street of this city are visiting Mrs. Street's sisters, Misses Marcha and Fanny Roberts of Central avenue, East Hartford. Yesterday morning Mrs. Street slipped on the floor and broke her leg. Dr. Sweet of Hartford set the fractured bone.

Charged With Burglary.

Frank H. Raymond was arrested late yesterday afternoon by Detective Sergeant Cowles and locked up charged with burglary. He is said to be implicated in the recent burglary at Morris F. Tyler's house on College street.

LARGE JAPANESE STOCK.

Carpets, Rugs and Mattings in a Fine Assortment at H. B. Perry's.

A fine line of Japanese and Chinese mattings has just been received at the old established and largely patronized carpet store of H. B. Perry at 914 Chapel street. Besides the splendid ornamental mattings Mr. Perry's big and complete stock also includes an excellent assortment of fine Japanese carpets, curtains, cushions, rugs and hammocks, which are well worth a visit of inspection, and are awakening a great deal of attention from buyers. The reputation of Mr. Perry's store for good goods in large variety, honorable dealing and enterprise bespeaks satisfactory bargains for all patrons.

HORRIBLY BURNED.

Little Ethel Weed Nearly Burned to Death in Norwalk, Clothing Caught Fire From the Stove.

Norwalk, July 31.—Ethel Weed, the eight-year-old adopted daughter of William Whitney of North avenue, this city, was nearly burned to death yesterday, her body being frightfully burned, while her face, arms and hands were also in a terrible condition. Her body is one mass of ghastly burns and blisters, while the right side is also somewhat charred and the legs burned. She was removed to the Norwalk hospital, and the case is considered a very serious one. It is thought the child's dress caught fire from the stove. Her mother was out of the house at the time.

WAS IT JULY OR OCTOBER?

The Coolest July in Many Years—Pleasant for the Stay at Homes in Town—How New Yorkers Took It.

The last day of July, unlike that day usually, was yesterday very much like the prevailing weather during the entire month and was exceedingly pleasant for those who are remaining in the city during the summer. The "is it hot enough for you?" man was not in evidence, and a waistcoat was very comfortable. Altogether it seemed much better than weltering in 95 degrees in the shade.

A New York dispatch last evening says:

The minimum temperature this morning was 55 degrees, which is the lowest for any July 31 since 1872, or for a period of twenty-three years.

People in this vicinity were not troubled by the heat in sleeping last night, and the Jersey mosquito took a day off in a bewildered endeavor to discover where he was at, and why his poignant stinger failed to work with its usual facility.

Evening wasn't found out yet. All he knows is that early last evening when he started on his customary rounds in search of blood and warmth his designs were frustrated by a frosted condition of his pumping apparatus entirely out of keeping with the advent of dog days.

But if New York and suburban residents were emancipated for the time from the vexation of their accustomed pests, they awoke in the night to the knowledge that another experience threatened and that they were in danger of freezing stiff in their beds. Some thought that they had been attacked by chills, others that they had been ill and delirious and had just returned to their normal state of mind to find themselves cast in the middle of winter.

On all sides, at any rate, there was a unanimous and howling chorus for more blankets, heavy blankets, winter comforters—anything to meet the unwelcome condition of the weather and restore circulation to their chilled bodies.

With the dawn of day many looked anxiously out of the windows, anticipating the sight of a fall of snow during the night.

Commuters alighted from the incoming trains and sought the cabins of the ferryboats, instead of their usual positions on the front decks of the boats.

Every one, without, had a wideawake look about him, and a jauntiness to his walk that had been missing for many a long day.

The present cold wave is not by any means a local product or due to local causes. It extends clear from San Diego, in lower California, through the western, central middle Atlantic and New England states to Eastport, Me.

Throughout that territory the temperature varied from 48 to 60 degrees.

The coldest place in the country was Moorhead, Minn., where the mercury registered 46 degrees, or but 14 degrees above the freezing point. At Indianapolis, St. Paul and Green Bay the temperature was 48 degrees.

The warmest point at 8 o'clock this morning was Key West, where the glass tube showed a register of 84 degrees.

The forecast is for continued fair and cool weather.

FRESH AIR EXCURSION

For the Little Children of the County Home.

The annual excursion for the children of the county home has been arranged, as usual, by Rev. Mr. Mossman on the City Mission list of "Fresh Air" outings. The New Haven County Home for neglected children is situated on Shelton avenue, corner of Bassett street. Mr. Newton Pierpont, president of the Centerville railroad, has for several years provided a free car to the green and return for the children on their way to their annual picnic at Savin Rock. Last year Mr. Mossman was given a free special car by the Winchester avenue railroad for the whole distance, and this year also through the kindness of Mr. Israel Kelsey, secretary and treasurer of that road, the same arrangement has been made.

About 10 o'clock this morning a special car, with sufficient room to take all the children who can go, will run up on the Cross town branch of the Winchester railroad nearly to the home, and the whole company taken without transfer to the rock and brought back in the same way. A fine luncheon has been prepared by Mr. Mathews and his assistants at the home. The whole day will be spent at the shore, and a very pleasant time is expected.

Mr. William Mathews, the superintendent, and his wife, the matron, have been in charge of the New Haven county home for the past five years. Miss Rosette Scott is their assistant at the present time, and Miss Agnes Sloan the seamstress. There were 183 children belonging to the home July 1, of whom only about sixty can be cared for in the home buildings. About fifty are boarded in families nearby, and between seventy and eighty of Catholic parentage are accommodated at St. Francis' orphan asylum. The children are mostly between 3 and 12 years of age. There is very little sickness among them, which is due to the unremitting attention of the matron, Mrs. Mathews, while in other respects also the children are plainly under the kind care of those who show a hearty interest in their work.

EAST HAVEN TOWN HALL PACKED.

John Smith's Trial Held Last Night—Found Guilty, but Appealed—East Haveners Out in Force at the Trial.

The adjourned trial of John Smith, proprietor of the place at South End which was raided last Sunday, came off last evening at the town hall in East Haven before Justice William H. Robinson. The hall was filled with East Haveners anxious to hear the case, and strong arguments were made by Prosecuting Agent Tuttle for the prosecution and Grove J. Tuttle for the defense. Mr. Thrasher also assisted Mr. Dwight Tuttle and made a sound argument.

Smith was found guilty and sentenced to thirty days imprisonment and $100 fine, but took an appeal to the court of common pleas under $400 bail. The case has excited much interest in East Haven.

IT WAS GOVERNOR FERRIS.

It Was White Governor Coffin and Lieutenant-Governor Cooke Were Both Out of the State.

Senator John H. Ferris of South Norwalk was acting governor of Connecticut. This condition of affairs has been brought about by the absence of Governor Coffin, who was in New York state, and of Lieutenant Governor Cooke, who is on his way to Nova Scotia. Governor Ferris has not been at the capitol and it may be that he does not know of his temporary honors. Mr. Ferris is state senator from the Thirteenth district, and is acting governor because he is president pro tem. of the senate.

The law makes these provisions for vacancies in the office of governor, and it further provides that if the president pro tem. of the senate cannot fill the vacancy another must be elected. If Acting Governor Ferris should take a day's trip to New York city or should spend a day on the sound sailing it would be the duty of the secretary of state under the law to convene the senators for the election of another acting governor. It is to be hoped that Senator Ferris will confine himself strictly to the limits of this state until either the executive or his lieutenant returns from his foreign journey. It would be too bad to impose upon the already overworked senators the duty of coming together again in this hot weather after their arduous labors of the past session.
